Inside information

Madrid, June 26, 2025

Repsol has reached an agreement to sell its 24% non-operated working interest in the Corridor Block in Indonesia to Medco Energi for $425 million.

The deal is part of Repsol's rotation strategy to upgrade its upstream portfolio and focus its efforts on assets that offer high profitability and cash generation, and will allow financing of the organic investment cycle in Upstream, with the aim of improving the portfolio and maintaining the business scale in the medium and long term.

It is estimated that the transaction will reduce the Group's net debt by approximately $350 million, with a positive impact of approximately +$70 million on the income statement for the 2025 financial year. These amounts will be adjusted based on the final figures at the time of the transfer of the assets.

Medco Energi, a leading Indonesian energy company, is the operator of Corridor, holding a 46% stake, with Pertamina owning the remaining 30%. Located onshore on the island of Sumatra, Corridor is a gas-producing asset. In 2024, it contributed approximately 19,000 barrels of oil equivalent per day to Repsol and added 26 million barrels of oil equivalent to its reserves. These volumes account for approximately 3% of Repsol's global production and 2% of its total reserves.

The transaction is expected to be closed in the third quarter of 2025.
